

WEDDELL SEA QUEST

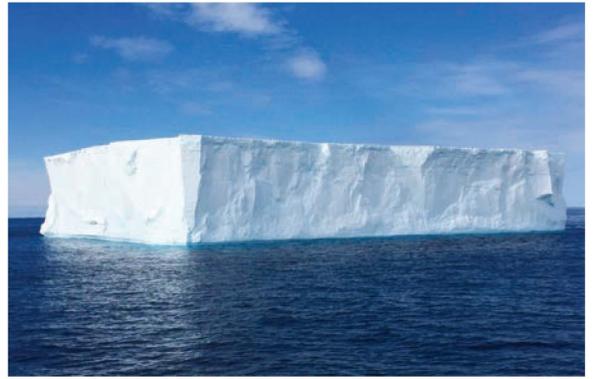

Expedition cruise to the Antarctic Peninsula, South Shetland Islands & the Weddell Sea aboard the USHUAIA

HIGHLIGHT

- Rich polar exploration history
- Busy Adelie Penguin colonies
- Abundant varieties of wildlife and seabirds
- Huge tabular icebergs and stunning scenery

The Weddell Sea will always be remembered as the polar region that still echoes the ill-fated expedition of the great British polar explorer Sir Ernest Shackleton. Join us for a truly unique and unforgettable experience known for its busy Adelie Penguin colonies, spectacular seabirds, seals and whales amidst imposing mountain ranges, ice-filled channels, glaciers and tabular icebergs.

During the time in the South Shetland Islands and the Antarctic Peninsula you will often make two landings a day via our fleet of zodiac craft.
